HOUSE RULES

Privacy:

- No music or outside partying is allowed after dark. It disturbs those groups that have already gone to bed.
- Keep all windows and doors closed when playing the stereo at high volume. That's adequate enough to ensure the peace and quiet of the centre.
- Do not walk through the gardens or close by the windows of the other houses. Allow everyone his or her privacy.

Fire safety:

- Always park so that the roads on the terrain remain free. Emergency services should always have clear access.
- It is strictly forbidden to burn candles or incense in the bedrooms and smoking is only permitted outside.
- Bonfires may only be made with the prior permission of the manager and only on a designated area.
- It is not permitted to use technical areas for storage or other usage.

Additional:

- When entering a space from the outside, please change your shoes. In so doing nature remains where it belongs ... outside.
- Leave the inventory - furniture, blankets etc. inside. Outdoors, things can be damaged and unwanted insects can crawl into the blankets.
- Don't be tempted to meddle with the stereo system. If you discover there is something faulty with any of the equipment, always alert the manager. Don't try and repair it yourself.

Safety:

- Meeuwenveen meets all the safety requirements for your stay. Upon arrival, we explain how the fire alarm system works. It is mandatory to appoint an emergency response person, who can take the lead in emergencies. There is a folder in the staff room with information about evacuation etc.
- Cameras are placed at all the entrances / exits of the premises. In the parking lot all movements of the incoming and outgoing traffic are monitored.
- The doors of all the buildings lock automatically. You can only enter with a code.

Cleaning:

- Regularly clean the building during your stay.
- Leave both house and gardens as you found them on arrival, unless alternative arrangements have been agreed upon.
- The kitchens should be left clean and ordered.
